

HOTELS PROMISE 3,000 ROOMS FOR MAY CONVENTION

Can Take Care of U. S. Chamber, if Arms Par- ley Is Ended.

Washington hotel men yesterday gave positive assurance through the secretary of their organization, Laurence Mills, that the necessary 3,000 first class rooms for the national convention of the United States Chamber of Commerce will be available by May 22, provided only that the arms limitation conference be adjourned by that time. Mr. Mills spoke before the executive committee of the local chamber of commerce.

The meeting had been called specifically to canvass the situation and see if it is possible to meet the requirements demanded by Secretary Skinner, of the United States Chamber, of the United States Chamber, Martin A. Leese, chairman of the conventions committee, reported that he had an offer of Convention Hall from William J. Dante that he regarded as particularly favorable. Twelve hundred rooms in the best hotels of Washington are now under indefinite lease from the various embassies and legations, he said.

With these assurances it was regarded as practically certain that Washington would be selected for the convention, for at the meeting one week ago Secretary Skinner, of the United States Chamber, had said that he was willing to take the chance, so far as the international conference was concerned, as he did not believe it would be much of an affair by the time it had lasted into the seventh month. If it should be prolonged any such length of time.

In order that there be no question about the accommodations available, Mills was asked to prepare a list of hotel rooms that could be definitely placed at the disposal of the national chamber of commerce delegates. He readily assented.

Thieves in Second Raid On House Office Building

The home of Representative Amos H. Radcliffe, of New Jersey, 4119 Fourth street, northwest, was entered by a thief who stole a silver chain purse valued at $50 and containing about $3 in cash, yesterday noon. The loss was discovered when members of the family came down stairs to receive a package of clothes which had been sent from a downtown store.

For the second time during the month thieves worked in the House Office Building, this time victimizing Representative Thomas B. Dunn, of New York. They escaped with a large Persian rug.

The robbery was discovered yesterday when representative Dunn was on occasion to visit the cleaning room on the fifth floor where he had stored the rug.

ARE YOUR TEETH BEGINNING TO GO?

One of the most common causes of decay which leads to early loss of teeth, is an acid condition of the mouth. This is known to dentists as "acid mouth," and usually exists without being even suspected until much damage has been done. The acid gradually dissolves the enamel, then decay sets in.

If everyone, beginning in childhood, were to use twice daily a dentifrice especially made to combat acid mouth, there is absolutely no doubt that loss of teeth before fifty would be almost unknown.

Dentists have found milk of magnesia tooth paste (named Mag Lac), not only cleanses and polishes the teeth—it actually preserves them against the ravages of their principal enemy, acid mouth. Many dentists are recommending it to their patients. Start using Mag Lac tooth paste today. Get a tube at any of the following handy Penalar Stores. "Fight for Erin" Dying Words Of MacSwiney

Speaking before a crowd that packed St. Dominic's Hall, at 518 Sixth street, last night, Peter MacSwiney told of the death and funeral of his brother, the late Lord Mayor Terence MacSwiney, of Cork, Ireland, who died in Brixton prison, England, a year ago, through voluntary starvation to further the cause of Irish freedom. Similar memorial meetings were held last night in other cities under the direction of the American Association for the Recognition of the Irish Republic.

"Among the last words of my brother," said Peter MacSwiney, "were messages to those fighting the cause of Ireland to continue the fight. 'In life, in death, the victory is ours.'"

MacSwiney described how his brother's body was taken from the family by the government and shipped to Cork instead of Dublin as arranged. The services were held at Dublin without the presence of other speakers were Representative Washington J. McCormick, of Montana; Rossa F. Downing, State president of the A. A. R. I. R., and the Rev. G. Fitzgerald, of the Catholic University.

The apartment of Mary Baxton and Miss Dorothy W. Myers, on the fourth floor of 1322 Fifteenth street northwest, was entered by thieves, who escaped with jewelry worth nearly $600.

Advertising Big Asset, Barreto Tells Club

John J. Barreto, head of Cecil Barreto and Cecil, of New York and Richmond, Va., spoke before the Ad Club at luncheon yesterday. "Advertising," he said, "is the most valuable asset that a business can have," Barreto said. "Well advertised goods to the merchant who handles them are worth 20 to 25 per cent more in the eyes of the buying public."

A group of scientists who are in Washington attending the chemists convention were guests of the Ad Club yesterday.

Four Detectives Promoted

Four detectives were promoted and seven men were appointed to the Metropolitan Police Department by the Commissioners yesterday. H. M. Jett, assigned to the recovery of stolen automobiles in the detective bureau, was raised to the rank of detective sergeant. Guy Rone, D. J. Murphy and P. W. Jones were made precinct detectives. Rone and Murphy have been assigned to enforcement of the liquor prohibition laws and Rone is reported to have secured most of the evidence which resulted in the recent raiding of thirty-one bootleggers' headquarters.

U. S. AND BRITISH AGREEMENT VITAL, LEWIS TELLS CLUB

Believes Success of Arms Parley Hinges Upon Chinese Question.

On the willingness of the United States to give as well as to take in international affairs depends the success of the coming arms conference, Willmott Lewis, Washington correspondent of the London Times, told the City Club's luncheon forum yesterday.

Speaking on "A British View of the Arms Conference," Mr. Lewis, a veteran student of international affairs, asserted that although he felt the temper of the nation and the administration was against international agreements, yet some agreements must be made between the British, Japanese and the United States if any good is to come from the conference.

"You have said you are ready to discuss limitation of armaments, but you have said wisely that the problems of the Pacific must also be settled for until these problems are settled there can be no arms reduction. And the Pacific problem simmers down to what will be done about China. And China means your future market in China, for this is, of course, the real basis of American concern no matter what altruistic words it may be couched in. The United States does not want to be debarrred from that market."

"Everything is possible if America and Britain stand together; nothing is possible if they don't. I know such an accord can be overplayed and misjudged by other nations, but it is vital to the common good of the world today."

C. C. Calhoun, vice chairman of the club's forum committee, presided.

Pretty Girls Can Vamp Officers And Even Judges, but Not Police Women, Says Mrs. Van Winkle

"A pretty girl can do just about anything with any man," Mrs. Minna Van Winkle, head of the women's bureau of the District Police Department, told members of the Piney Branch Citizens' Association last night. "They vamp all the officers from the lowest in rank to the judges at the trials. But they can't vamp us," she laughingly remarked.

Mrs. Van Winkle praised the activities of the Police Department and the work of Maj. Gessford, chief of police.

"Washington has made 7,000 liquor arrests in contrast to only 12,000 for New York City. Yet when I was in New York City recently I could have made 7,000 arrests for violation of the liquor laws myself that I actually saw," she said. "I know for a fact the Washington Police Department is the cleanest in the whole United States and has as its head a man of honor and character," she continued.

In speaking of delinquency, Mrs. Van Winkle declared, "Two are bearing the burden today more than anything else. Nine out of every ten cases of delinquency among children is the fault of the parents."

TIME FOR REMEDIES, THINK AUTO BOARD

The advisory board of the District of Columbia division of the American Automobile Association met yesterday afternoon and discussed the new regulation regarding the prohibition of parking in the congested parts of the city. The board is opposed to the regulation but believes it a time to offer remedies and not objections. They chose Conrad H. Syme to represent them at the public hearing to be held before the Commissioners tomorrow morning.

"If all the nations should adopt the principle laid down by President Harding, that fraternity is understanding, we should have no more wars or cause for wars," said Minister Six.

He told of the progress of the Masonic order in China and its great influence for friendly understanding between his country and America.

Two recommendations looking to the beautification and improvement of water approaches to Washington were decided upon yesterday at the meeting of the river and harbor committee of the Washington Board of Trade.

Frank P. Leach, chairman of the committee, made the recommendations.
